Mr. Choate ridiculed the position of the government that a tax on rents was not a tax on land. The decision already not a tax on land. The decision already rendered met this objection completely. A most careful brief has been filed on the question of direct taxation. The government has made the best answer it could, and that answer was not much, and Mr. Choate added: "What is Mr. Whitney's idea of a direct tax. Obviously he has none. He said there was no such thing. Dutles had always been synonymous with taxes. It had been synonymous with taxes. It had been the fortune of the supreme court to de-cide great questions on narrow phrases. The constitution was a constitution of numerations, not definitions. The conalitution did not define a direct tax."

At this point the court adjourned and Mr. Cheate will conclude his afgument

Battery A, light artilery, scared the wits out of about 560 people who were on the streets at 10 o'clock last night. The boys took out their cannons on the corner of Market and First streets. Bang went a great big charge of powder that made the tall buildings tremble. The attention of everybody was arrested. Bang it went again, and every body ran, boys heating a tattoo on the sidewalks as far north as Oak street By the time five charges were fired the men and women and children in the neighborhood were out in their night clothes scrambling for cyclone cellars. Usually when the boys fire off these old guns some of their number either get killed or crippled; last night was an exception, as nobody ws hurt.

bright now for the passage of fellowservant legislation.

When the senate convened this morning Chief Clerk Griffin of the house brought official notice of the house's refusal to concur in the senate amendments to the election bill. Senator Dunn promptly moved that the senate refuse to recede and that a conference committee be appointed. The proposition carried and Senators Dunn, Love and Mott were appointed on such committee. The house committee is composed of Jones of Jackson, Robinson of posed of Jones of Jackson, Robinson of Johnson and Weinholm of Perry. The members of the joint conference are not likely to reach an agreement and a disagreement is much more likely. Sensators Dunn and Love, will hold out for the senate bill without amendment, while Mott is a Filleyite. The house committee is a Filly committee. But committee is a Filly committee. But while the first committee may not agree there is a very good chance for a compromise. It is probable that an en-tirely new bill imbodying the chief provisions of both, will be prepared and submitted. No one believes that a deadlock of long duration will follow.

ented Except Three-New Party is Freely Discussed in Case the Principles of the Order are Not Adopted by Any Existing Party Organization.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 7.-The supreme council of the American Protec-tive association will begin its eighth annual session in Liberty hall temerrow night. The committee on credentials held its first annual session today. It is expected that every state and territory will be represented except Miss issippi, New Mexico and the Indian Territory, and that upwards of 400 delegates will occupy the seats on the floor of the hall.

It has been generally reported that Supreme President Traynor would take an emphatic stand in the council for the formation of a new political party. Mr. Montgue, who edits Mr. Traynor's paper, says that Mr. Traynor's position is that political wisdom lies in the members affiliating with the party which will champion the best of its principles, and if neither of the old parties will do that and a new party is organized outside of the order which will embrace those principles in its platembrace those principles in its plat-form, he would counsel action with such a party and that it is time for the order to take decisive action along this

The members of the association claim to be able to control the election in several states. They also claim to have increased their membership fully cent during the past year in TAMPERING WITH MAILBAG LOCKS. A Telitaic Mechanism Which Makes Successful Thefts Almost Impossible.

The locks on the mail pouches are so constructed that it is impossible to open one without its betraying the secret. There is a little dial on the lock, and every time the look is opened the figures on the dial move up one. Suppose, for instance, that the register shows 1,147 at the point of de-parture, and that when the pouch is deliv-ered at the point of destination the lock is opened, the register will then show 1,148. This increase of one is made for each trip of the pouch, and eventually the number reached is 9,999, which in an average bag requires 38 years to reach. The bag is then taken apart, and the numbers are reset.

These locks were first introduced in 1881, and a mail clerk made a bold attempt to and a mall clerk made a bold attempt to rob a bag in transit, soon after their intro-duction. He took a small turning lathe in the mall car with him to aid in the scheme. After unlocking the bag he rifled the con-tents and connected up the laths to the lock. His idea was to twist the numbers around until they were the same as before the lock was touched. He see the lathe humming and soon reeled off the numbers up to 9,999, when to his consternation the register remained at that figure and re-fused to move anymore. The lock must be taken apart before it will start No. 1 again, but he did not know this. The trick was of course discovered and the locks have never been tampered wit New York World.

Wool and Electricity

An important fact is discussed by a writer in The Manufacturers' Reer in The Manufacturers' Review—viz, that wood, after it is shorn and deansed preparatory to the carding and spinning processes, is capable of being highly charged with electricity, and that though the phenomena resulting from this charac-teristic are familiar to all cardess the inas to interfere materially with the wo of the wool. The fact, however, that wool when thoroughly wet or wall lubricated, either artificially or with its own natural grease, shows no effects from the presence of electricity, may be considered as estab-lishing the fact that in all grades of wool the susceptibility to the influence of electricity increases in the ratio of dryness of absence of inbricating material in the fiber, or, in other words, to its freedom from the moistening effect of oil or water, while sufficient moisture properly applied will not only prevent all the evil effects of electricity in wool, but will destroy every evidence of its existence in both the picker and cardrooms. The writer adds that by He fumed for about an hour. Then the making the feed light in bulk, speeding the feed roll and doffers faster for a quick speed and quick delivery, and reducing speed of the main cylinders, tumble fancies and the vibrating motions of the condenser, the effects in question are done
